

CHILDREN IN PANIC ON STEAMER; JURY VISITS WOODHOUSE ESTATE

$1,000,000 Suit Is Brought To Halt

Merchants Bank Employee Testifies To Checks On Young Woodhouse

(By The Associated Press)
BURLINGTON, Nov. 25.—Trial of the Woodhouse $1,000,000 alienation suit was brought to a halt this morning when it was decided to have the jury inspect the Woodhouse estate in this city. It was done with the view of giving them the "background" believed necessary by the defense in substantiating evidence which it expected to introduce later on.

Evidence this morning was limited to the testimony of two witnesses, one being a hotel clerk in the Ten Eyck hotel at Albany, introduced to strengthen an alibi of L. E. Woodhouse. The other witness was Clark E. Brigham, an employee of the Merchants National Bank of this city who told of numerous checks drawn on Douglas Woodhouse by Mrs. Lillian Hendricks McClelland of Washington.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri are engaged to marry according to reports current in motion picture circles here, the Los Angeles Times says in a story published today. Chaplin refused either to deny or confirm the reported engagement.

NEWPORT GIRL GIVEN SHOWER BY FRIENDS
Miss Gladys McCauley to Be Wedded to Mr. Jay Carr

Miss Gladys McCauley was tendered a pre-nuptial shower Thursday night at Newport the home of Mrs. Vernon Huntington assisted by Mrs. Theron Meader. The guests were the Thursday club of which Miss McCauley is a member.

The shower is in anticipation of her approaching marriage to Mr. Jay Carr and concealed in the mammoth yellow ball, which was first thought to be a fallen meteor, but was only an extremely realistic pumpkin of the largest size were beautiful gifts of linen silver and cut glass and other more practical articles.

Gay streamers of the same shade were festooned from the ceiling to the four corners of the table where the "pumpkin" rested on a bed of autumn leaves making a charming effect of autumn coloring. A delicious lunch and a social hour with music made the occasion a happy one for all.

FARM BUREAU ACTIVITIES IN EAST HAVEN

Said to be More Deer Than Dairy Cows In Essex County

A representative of the Caledonian-Record and St. Johnsbury Republican has been accompanying the officials of the Caledonia County Farm Bureau on their tour to the different towns of the county the past few weeks. It is believed that more publicity will bring the people of the various communities into a closer touch with and better understanding of the important work of this valuable institution for the promotion of the interests of better agricultural conditions. The official party as it starts out to fill one of these dates makes quite an outfit with its Ford car loaded with moving picture apparatus, lanterns, fertilizer sprayers and dusters, and half dozen big batteries, cane and reed for basketry, samples of seeds, bags and baggage galore, until it looks like a moving van. It has all the material for a good road show, playing at one night stands. It might be an Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, with Secretary Hallett in the title role, Agent Barnes as handsome George Harris, Miss Gillilan as Little Eva or Miss Orphelia, and the newspaper man as the ice, bloodhound and scene shifter.

Friday the outfit bobbed over the county line to the north into Essex county and held an interesting meeting in Grange hall at East Haven. The farmers of East Haven, and in fact of all Essex county, are grass growers in the summer and lumbermen in the winter. As soon as the snow comes in the fall everyone is busy getting out either lumber or wood. This is the only sideline the local farmers find profitable. There is still big quantities of lumber in Essex county, although there is not as much virgin growth spruce and pine as there was before the days of the old Lyndon Mill company when Dudley P. Hall was the moving spirit and energy-inspirer for all this region, and millions of

Allied Ships Rush To Aid of Near East Relief Steamer In Bosphorus

(By the Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 25.—Two thousand Christian orphans and two American relief workers were in peril today when the steamship Belgravia chartered by the Near East relief collided with the trans-Atlantic liner New York at the Western entrance of the Bosphorus. Allied ships reported that many of the children had been painfully injured. No lives were lost.

Doctors and nurses were rushed to attend the injured. The New York carried no passengers.

Reports received here declared the children were in a panic after the impact which tore away the bridge of the Belgravia and loosened several of the vessel's plates. The wireless was also put out of commission.

CELEBRATE 25 YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Daniels Are Surprised by Friends

A genuine surprise was launched on Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Daniels, Friday evening, when about 50 of their relatives and friends of the M. T. O. club gathered at their home to remind them it was their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Daniels attended the play at the Universalist church, in which her two boys participated, Mr. Daniels remaining at home as he was ill with a cold. When she reached home she found the house had been taken possession of by friends and relatives, many of whom she had just parted with at the church.

After extending congratulations and good wishes, games were played after which delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee and candy were served. There was a beautiful wedding cake made by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. John Montgomery and when the bride of 25 years attempted to cut, she found it to contain as a center piece a roll of 25 new silver dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Daniels were also the recipients of numerous other gifts, among them being a bouquet of 25 carnations from their three sons, Dale, Everett and Kenneth.

Mrs. Daniels very feelingly expressed their thanks and at a late hour the guests departed. Among the guests was Mrs. Will Asle from Bath, Me.

CLEMENCEAU LEAVES TO ATTEND FOOTBALL GAME

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—Georges Clemenceau rested by a good night's sleep after his address at Tremont Temple late yesterday left today to see the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven. His private car was attached to the train leaving the South station at 8:30 A. M. and due at New Haven at 12:22 P. M.

'OLD FASHIONED HUSKING BEE' BIG SUCCESS

Appreciative Audience at the Universalist Church

The annual Christmas sale at the Church of the Messiah closed Friday night with a most successful presentation of the play "The Old-Fashioned Husking Bee." During the afternoon and evening the tables were liberally patronized and the ladies are much gratified at the results.

The play was given under the direction of Mrs. Carl E. Merrill, assisted by Miss Vera Montgomery, Mrs. John Simons, and Mrs. Madge Kellogg Rock. The latter had charge of them all. The following is the cast of characters: Uncle Nathan Peterkins, the host, Charles P. French; Thomas Jefferson Peterkins, the college boy, Everett Daniels; Scipio, the colored boy, Kenneth Daniels; Josiah, the nervous old bachelor, George C. Feich; Algernon Fitzgibbon, the dude from Boston, Thomas Porter; Little Lord Fauntleroy, the tall young man, Harry Moffet; Solomon Levi, the Jew, Podler; Lisle Tiltonson; As Sin, the Chinaman, Harold Tiltonson; Patrick O'Brien, Walter E. Kellogg; Bobby, the small boy, Charles Calderwood; William, Milton Montgomery; Aunt Peggy Peterkins, Mrs. George Tice; Betsy, a fussy old maid, Iris Underwood; Katie Maloney, the Irish girl, Mrs. Carl E. Morris; Maggie, Mrs. Milton Montgomery; Molly, Mrs. Marion Goss.

The parts were all well taken and the play was hugely enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Feich was one of the stars of the cast and Miss Underwood as "Betsy" made a great hit. Several very pleasing musical numbers were given during the evening. Guy T. Kellogg appeared twice and a quartette consisting of Lisle Tiltonson, Everett Daniels, Milton Montgomery and Harold Tiltonson gave vocal selections.

HANOVER A. C. FEATURE HERE ON TUESDAY

Gubby McDermott and His Stars Will Play Company D

Coach Burns of the Company D basketball team has a remarkably strong attraction coming here for Tuesday night. He has secured big "Gubby" McDermott and his Hanover A. C. which will be remembered here last year as one of the cleanest and fastest contests that has ever been played on the local court.

The game last year resulted in a 30 to 20 score in favor of the local team. There were only five fouls called in the whole game and the feature playing of McDermott and Yuille will be remembered by all who saw it.

McDermott is bringing the same Yuille back with him this year and in addition, Tracy, Arkey, and the versatile "Wallie" Kopf who will be remembered as the third baseman at Newport the past two years and later with the New York Giants.

This game is sure to be a hum-dinger. Coach Burns has played a game with the local club and has an idea what they can do, so fans may be sure of a faster combination even than last game.

LAST OF O. E. S. DELEGATION REACHES HOME

Vt's Voting Strength at Big National Gathering Sixty

The Vermont delegation to the big gathering of the Eastern Star in Washington, D. C., was one of the strongest and with the return Friday of the state's grand officers much interesting information of the inside working of the convention attended the representatives from nearly all of the countries of the globe, is being gleaned. Sixty of the 647 voting delegates were from the Green Mountain State and its grand matron, Mrs. L. N. Smythe of St. Johnsbury had a part in the program. Each state or country presented some emblem or tribute and Vermont's was the reading of Judge Charles Darling's poem, "That's Where Vermont Comes In" by Mrs. Smythe. The delegation from Hawaii and from Japan presented the flags of their country. All the countries of North America were represented and many of the foreign ones, and many of the presentations were most unique.

The voting delegation was made up of the four highest officers of the state chapters and the past grand patrons and past grand matrons so St. Johnsbury's voting strength loomed large with the presence of Mrs. Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lang who have all been honored with high offices in the order.

Returning Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Smythe were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tilden of Barre, both grand officers and Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Ruggles of West Burke, Mrs. Ruggles th grand warder. The other members of the delegation returned earlier in the week. The last arrivals spent a day in Atlantic City and visited Philadelphia and New York City enroute home.

The professor who was divorced on Thursday from his wife, Mrs. Augusta Kiernan, principal in a paternity case at South Bend, gave his age as 32. The bride gave her age as 24.

HANSELL, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Blanche Briemer is the daughter of Rev. Charles H. Horn, a Methodist minister here.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. Nov. 25.—When informed that her former husband had been married to Mrs. Briemer, Mrs. John P. Kiernan stated that she did not know the woman but said she had heard the professor mention her as the woman whom he later expected to marry.

EXPECT TO FIND MURDERERS BODY IN HARBOR

QUINCY, Mass., Nov. 25.—The police in their efforts to trace the man believed to have shot and killed Mrs. Ida G. Anderer at her home here last night were searching the harbor shore today in the expectation of finding his body. Because of a note which they found in the house and which they refused to make public they said it appeared probable that the man had thrown himself into the harbor. Mrs. Anderer's body was discovered by her daughter lying in the cellar and bearing four bullet wounds. The police announced today that they were looking for Albert L. Harvey who was said to have lived with the woman for some time.

They Want the Editor to Do the "Roasting"

"Next to the press agent and the free-publicity seeker, to test the editor's patience, is the fellow who wants you to take someone over the coals," says Mr. Lewis. "The mayor, the chief of police, the superintendent of schools, or someone else gives offense, and straightway the aggrieved citizen hurries to the statements and sign the article, the chances are he will be indignant, informing you emphatically he does not want his name brought into it. He wants to sit in the background and watch the paper roast someone who, in all probability, was doing a disagreeable duty when he offended the citizen."

This is but one of the scores of interesting paragraphs on small city newspaper work as published in by the well-known small town editor, William W. Loomis.

"The American Magazine"

Every reader of a newspaper will be interested in this article. It takes up many phases of why "People Do Love to See their Names in the Paper," which is the title of the story.

The Caledonian-Record

has secured permission from The American Magazine to republish this article beginning Monday. Don't miss it. It's interesting.
